"A WANDERING, 1990-91"

by Donna Butler

Another camera club year is coming to a close...except it seems that none of us are ready for it to stop, even for a couple of months. But, we really don't have to. There is a picnic planned for July and a mountain trip in August. I'm looking forward to them both.

This last year has been a good and active one. We have taken on a project or two-been on a project or two-been on several field trips-The biggest challenge of the year, for me, is the scavenger hunt. You know, I spent some time visiting relatives in Minnesota in May. Since, I had taken only one subject for the hunt before I left, and because I had a broken foot I decided to leave that camera at home so I would have less to carry.

Naturally, I saw many scavenger hunt subject I could have taken. But, I also found myself seeing things I may not have noticed otherwise; beautiful old farmhouses, reflections in a pond up the road, unique mailboxes, a flashy sign with what appeared to be giant sequins, a magnificent reflection of building in a building in downtown Minneapolis, and of course, lots of water. I'm learning to be more observant and therefore, enjoying my surroundings more each day as a result.

I know my thoughts have been wandering a lot-it's just that kind of day. Anyhow, thanks for all your support this year. I have truly enjoyed serving as your Chairman, and I am looking forward to another great year of learning, fun and "fotos."
